

Corporate Fact Sheet

Company:	Healing Hearts Therapy Center
Locations: Located under the brilliant blue skies of East Texas between Dallas and Lonview on I-20.	305 E. South Street Lindale, Texas 75771 Phone: (719) 260-1221 Toll Free: 877-600-9844
E-mail:	drnewman@healingheartstherapy.net
Web:	www.healingheartstherapy.net
Leadership:	Dr. Robin Newman, clinical psychotherapist. Email: drnewman@healingheartstherapy.net
Founding Date:	January 2009
Fee Structure:	Varies according to services and needs, but usually starts at $125. Fees are discussed during initial contact, with the first 15-minute phone consultation, free of charge. Sessions are billed per 50-minute session.
Services offered:	Individual Therapy, on a 50-minute hour, local or by phone. Couples' Therapy, on a 50-minute hour, local or by phone. Group therapy, weekly, a 60-minute session, local or by phone. Family Therapy, on a 50-minute hour, Local Play Therapy, for children, ages 3 and up. Parenting Advocate. HHTC works with schools and parents struggling with boundaries, discipline and reaching a mutual decision on a child's well-being. Testing. For parents, schools, employers, physicians

Areas of expertise that therapy is provided for:

- Adults
- Depression
- Anxiety/PTSD
- Grief/Loss
- Boundaries
- Marital Difficulties
- Teens
- School
- Rebellion/discipline
- Self-esteem
- Testing
- Personality Testing
- Other testing as requested
- Children
- Developmental delays
- Social navigation
- Peer relations
- Fears/anxieties
- Sadness
- Couples/Families
- Sexual addiction
- Parenting
- Peer pressure
- Parental Issues
- IQ Testing
- Career Development

Other testing as required or requested

Why HHTC?

About Dr. Newman:

- Bachelor's of science, elementary education, Baylor University in Waco, Texas;
- Master's degree, clinical psychology
- Doctorate's degree, clinical psychology, University of the Rockies
- 10 years experience in the classroom, plus additional time spent homeschooling her oldest child.
- A member of the American Psychological Association
- Selected to present at the 2009 Humanistic Existential National Conference in October '09
- Author of numerous articles on parenting, childhood, and marital relationships, written several greeting cards through Dayspring
- Published author, "That I Might Not Sin," an activity and memory book for parents to use with their children to help them develop integrity and character
- Understands the heart of a mother in having a child with special needs
- Serves as a Parenting Advocate, one who helps parents develop an effective disciplinary plan for children of all ages and personalities to enhance and strengthen character development.
- Works with "children of all ages" from 3-93:

In addition, she worked with and helped children in a variety of environments, socio-economic situations and has specialized in working with children with developmental and neurological disorders such as Autism, ADHD, Tourette's Syndrome and other developmental delays.

Compassionate Therapy:

Dr. Newman offers compassionate, caring therapy to each of her client's, giving them a sense of having walked "a mile in their shoes" from the outset.

Relational:

Dr. Newman's soft spoken and gentle nature helps put clients at ease from the start as they share their story of pain with her in the comfort of her "at home" office setting.

Direct Therapy-plus:

Though Dr. Newman has a direct approach in working with her clients, she has found the balance between being direct and adding a dose of humor at just the right time that seems to bring balance and reality to the emotions of the moment.

Individual and unique for each individual:

At the heart of Dr. Newman's therapy is the understanding and realization that each person who enters her office is an individual with his or her own set of unique struggles that are dealt with on an individual basis, not a cookie cutter approach to therapy.

Experience:

Dr. Newman has years of experience working with people of all ages from children through the senior years. She has years of experience in the specific field of psychotherapy, but has many more years tucked in her belt as a teacher, parent, and minister's wife.

Pricing:

Dr. Newman's fees are very reasonable. Prices vary depending on the specific type of services rendered from $125.00 and up.

Other psychological concerns that Dr. Newman specializes in are:

- Trauma/PTSD/sexual abuse
- Anxiety
- Ministry related difficulties
- Adjustment disorder
- Changes, new circumstances, adjusting to stage of life issues
- Preschool days
- Empty nest
- Self esteem issues
- Depression
- Sexual Addiction
- Grief and loss
- Divorce and recovery for kids and adults
- Postpartum
- Teen age years
- Caring for your parents
- Boundaries

Contact: For further information, please email the staff of Healing Hearts Therapy at:
info@healingheartstherapy.net